

- LEGEND
- SCHOOL
 - HOSPITAL
 - MARKET
 - CHURCH
 - MOSQUE
 - AIRPORT
 - SEAPORT
 - TERMINAL
 - PARK
 - SERVICES
 - POINT of INTEREST
 - BEACH
 - INTERNET
 - PHONE
 - POST OFFICE

GENERAL INFORMATION

Land Area: 253,982 has.
 No. of Barangays: 66 DEEP FOREST
 Population: 161,912 (2000 census)
 Approximately 250,000 (Present)
 People and Dialect:
 English is widely spoken
 Tagalog, Cuyunon, Cebuano
 Indigenous Groups:
 Tagbanua and Batak
 Economic Activities:
 Agriculture, Fishing
 Tourism, Trade & Industry

An Invitation to Adventure

Exotic islands, unspoiled beaches, world-class diving sites, lush virgin forests, endemic flora and fauna, waterfalls, hot springs, the world's longest navigable underground river that is the Puerto Princesa Subterranean River National Park - World Heritage Site, and a gentle people. That, in a nutshell, is what the City of Puerto Princesa is all about.

But that is hardly all of it. Puerto Princesa City is also a recipient of the Hall of Fame Award for being the cleanest and greenest city in the Philippines, and of the "Peace Award" of being the country's most peaceful city. It is also the gateway to yet another World Heritage Site, the Tubbataha Marine Park.

And because we are firm believers and pursuers of "the kind of development that addresses the need of the present generation without compromising the ability of the succeeding generations to meet their needs," we do not only delight in being called "The Last frontier," but we also would want it to be a lasting paradise.

So, come... visit us. We assure you that even as you enjoy the magnificence of this Ultimate Architect's creation, I and the rest of our people will only be too happy to receive you into our hearts and our homes.

Mabuhay!

EDWARD S. HAGEDORN

City Mayor
 City of Puerto Princesa

Puerto Princesa City

BAGONG SIGLA
SA PAG-IBIG SA